What are the most important things that you learned in this course? Please reflect on the knowledge and skills you gained.

Comments
I have learned how to effectively write a proper paper that conveys my point. I also learned how to read articles and pick out the meaningful information needed.
The mind in a variety of context with the real world.
We learned about behavior, the mind in context, and the neurological components of the brain.

Describe how aspects of this course (lectures, discussions, labs, assignments, etc.) contributed to your learning.

Comments
Discussions were extremely important for understanding the content of the course. Lectures were also just as important for understanding information needed for the week.
Class discussion enhanced my understanding of the lectures and the weekly reading
We had lecture on Tuesdays then discussion on Fridays. I went to every lecture, but I know that many people didn't. Each lecture had a new professor teaching their specialty, so I really appreciated attending because every speaker was well–versed and passionate.

Thinking about your time in the class, what aspect of the instructor's teaching contributed most to your learning?

Comments
I think what helped me the most was her feedback on assignments as well as in discussions. She let you know what was missing or what needed to be changed.
She came to class with a specific direction of how she wanted to dissect the reading which was a good way to facilitate discussion
She hosted office hours which were helpful.
constant feedback on weekly discussion papers

What could the instructor modify to help you learn more?

Comments
I believe the instructor could help convey helpful tactics on how to do better in the course with key details.

Emma Adler helped me with essays and helped with writing extremely helpful workshops. I believe she could discuss with the professor what is needed because I felt as though there was a slight disconnect.
