What are the most important things that you learned in this course? Please reflect on the knowledge and skills you gained.

Comments
how to analyze primary historical documents
We studied European Civilizations from the Enlightenment to Cold War. We read a lot of primary documents which offered us insights into the historical context at that time
Using primary sources to think critically about topics

Describe how aspects of this course (lectures, discussions, labs, assignments, etc.) contributed to your learning.

Comments
the discussions were very useful when the readings were confusing. the assignments were reasonable but also contributed to my learning
The reaction papers were helpful to see how the rest of the class understood the material.
Lectures were the most helpful, helped synthesize all the readings

Thinking about your time in the class, what aspect of the instructor's teaching contributed most to your learning?

Comments
Prof Kimmey is extremely well-spoken and knowledgeable on the subjects. Made sure the main points of the readings were conveyed in the discussions.
Dr. Kimmey is a great professor. He would guide the class with great questions and responses to our discussions. He also write extremely thorough feedback for every piece of writing we submitted. I feel extremely respected and learned so much from his teaching. His office hours are also helpful and he has provide extremely meaningful guidance on my paper.
Roy did a fantastic job at giving everyone the space to speak and engaging with students' comments in a way that really drove the conversations forward.
Professor Kimmey was great, he was very encouraging, gave great feedback, and facilitated great discussions.

What could the instructor modify to help you learn more?

Comments
Maybe make people in the class participate more, it felt like me and a couple others running the show. cold calling really couldn't hurt
He's great!
We often ran out of time to finish discussing reaction papers or the full content of each day's material. Perhaps we could have had a limit to the number of comments made for a specific point of discussion.
I wish he would have given a few more lectures, I would have like to see him flex his knowledge a bit more. He did it a time or too and those were great classes.
