What are the most important things that you learned in this course? Please reflect on the knowledge and skills you gained.

Comments
Gender theories, social construct of masculinity/femininity, a lot of gender-related things that are super interesting.
I got to get a better grasp on the history of gender and sexuality discussions as well as a space to further my more contemporary knowledge on these topics.
Learning about how gender affects society
Many ideas related to gender and sexuality. Intersectional ideas.

Describe how aspects of this course (lectures, discussions, labs, assignments, etc.) contributed to your learning.

Lecture and discussions.
Having powerpoints with background context for some of the readings and their authors was helpful to get a better understanding of where each author was coming from. Also having videos intertwined with these power points made understanding some of the concepts easier and more engaging than just readings. I also think doing the group questions helped work out some of the questions and nuances of different texts both by creating the questions in our groups but by also discussing them in small groups in class.
Discussions and readings were integral to my learning
The lectures, readings, and assignments contributed

I think that sometimes the amount of stuff to cover for each class was too much to get through with the allotted time (i.e. sometimes we'd only have enough time to discuss one of the readings for that day).
Professor Tremmel was great

Thinking about your time in the class, what aspect of the instructor's teaching contributed most to your learning?

Comments
Lectures and how Prof Tremmel facilitates discussion
I think Professor Tremmel did a good job of balancing mediating discussion and letting the class run them by ourselves. I also again think the powerpoints were helpful to guide the class and discussion when it got quiet.
The professor was super respectful and helped facilitate good discussions
Instructor brought up thought-provoking questions and ideas in discussion. The lectures and discussions contributed most.

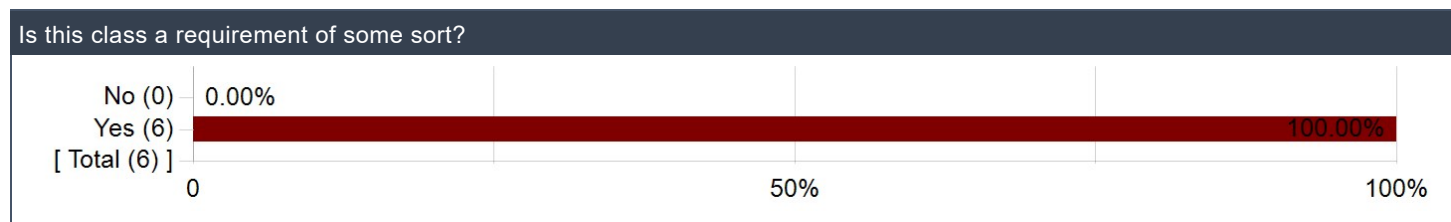

What could the instructor modify to help you learn more?

Comments
N/A
I think Professor Tremmel did a very good job. The only thing I'd suggest is maybe giving more guidelines on how to create the questions for discussion and maybe laying out that we only do a certain amount of questions since we didn't get to some of them in class sometimes.
Nothing
Grading assignments sooner could help understand where to focus on in future assignments

Comments
Not very difficult but very very insightful, really love Prof Tremmel(take this class!) wish I got more feedback on the two reading reflections a bit sooner, also wish we could get the final paper prompt before thanksgiving but overall a super interesting class
Very accessible as long as you did the readings
