I loved this class, the readings are super interesting, and analyzing contemporary music with the perspectives we learn is fun.
The most important thing I learned was probably how music affects language and the other way around as well. I did not take it into consideration too much, but now I am more aware of it.
How to analyze and interpret complicated writings + vastly improved the organization and clarity of my writing.
Formal music analysis and writing.

Describe how aspects of this course (lectures, discussions, labs, assignments, etc.) contributed to your learning.

Comments

The writing seminars helped me learn how to better my writing a bit.

Thinking about your time in the class, what aspect of the instructor's teaching contributed most to your learning?

Comments
He put in a lot of effort designing classes for us, helped us understand the readings with canvas announcements pre-reading.
Probably how engaging he was with the students.
Hearing his interpretations about the reading and feedback on my papers.
Gabriel have a strong understanding of the class material. He is open to opinions and discussions and even arguments against the readings assigned, something that really allowed us to speak our minds and form original thoughts.

What could the instructor modify to help you learn more?

Comments
Not much.
Nothing that I can think of.
Maybe putting the more daunting reading after a few simpler/more relatable texts.

Not hard, just use your brain and put in the work and you will learn.
It was not too difficult, but still challenging.
I came from a musical background. However, please note it's not needed since it's not a music class.
