What are the most important things that you learned in this course? Please reflect on the knowledge and skills you gained.

Comments
Learn a lot about the impact of capitalism on society.
Most important skill I learned in this class is how to effectively discuss and engage with multiple different readers that try to tackle the same issue.
I learned a lot about various theories interpreting capitalism and the individual under capitalism.
theories about how the (capitalist) society comes into being and functions
Learned how to analyze texts in different historical contexts in addition to applying them to mixed media

Describe how aspects of this course (lectures, discussions, labs, assignments, etc.) contributed to your learning.

Comments
Discussions promoted a lot of critical thinking and gave diverse perspectives on the topics.
The discussions were really helpful because the teacher provided great guiding questions that helped me engage with the content.
The discussions were especially helpful as parts of the texts were confusing at times, but our class discussions helped clear these confusions.
the readings and in class discussions, office hours also helped to clarify my individual questions a lot
The classroom discussions were very insightful and greatly helped with understanding of the course material

Thinking about your time in the class, what aspect of the instructor's teaching contributed most to your learning?

Comments
I liked when she would give mini lectures to broadly overview the topic.
Their knowledge about not just the content but the authors and their lives.
Eleonore was very helpful as she explained parts of the text to us that were confusing.
the way she facilitates&guides the discussion
Professor Rimbault was very interested in the topics that we discussed in class and did a very good job of addressing people's questions as well as asking engaging questions. She was also very responsive to emails and gave in depth feedback.

What could the instructor modify to help you learn more?

Comments
Once a week lecture that would summarize what we spoke about in that week,
I feel like she tends to be long-winded at times, eg. when talking about logistics, backgrounds of authors and their works, other things that are less directly related to the theme of our reading. while that can be very decompressing, more solid discussion time could always produce more interesting thoughts!

Comments
I had no background but I found the course to be extremely interesting and Professor Eleonore is the best.
Not very difficult and the texts that are read are really engaging.
This course was relatively difficult for me as the readings took me a long time and some of the ideas that were developed in the texts were hard to understand at times.
The level of writing that is expected is similar to what was expected in AP level writing classes or HUM classes
